

ABOUT THE STATE

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST FROM DIFFERENT SECTIONS

The efforts of several young women of Burlington on flower day to secure funds for the Belgian baby orphans, netted $230.

Among 15 appointments announced on July 25 by the war department was that of Judson Hudson Cole, Bennington, captain, medical reserve.

Deputy Sheriff John F. Smith, gardener at the house of correction in Rutland, recently dug two hills of potatoes, planted April 23, and the contents weighed 14 pounds.

Mrs. L. O. Warren of St. Albans is suffering from a sunstroke, which she received while bathing in St. Albans bay last week. Her nerves are badly shattered and she is confined to the bed.

New York state and Vermont are now connected at the lake ports of Grand Isle and Cumberland Head by a large steam ferry which can carry 25 automobiles. There are two passenger cabins. The boat is electrically lighted.

Gardens in Bellows Falls were last week visited by millions of green lice, causing much argument and excitement. About every green thing is literally loaded. None of the poisons on the market seem to have the slightest effect on the lice.

Alton C. Dean of Albany, N. Y., has caught the largest Lake Champlain fish so far this season, on July 23, with pole and line, bringing in a wall-eyed pike that measured 30 inches in length, had a girth of 15 1/2 inches and weighed 8 1/2 pounds.

A permanent trout rearing station has been established in South Vermont for Windham county, State Fish and Game Commissioner Linus Leavens having purchased portions of the so-called Newton farm there for the operation of a modern plant.

Mrs. Ann Stott of Island Pond, aged 76 years, has just completed her 41st pair of socks for the Red Cross. This she has done besides knitting for various members of her own family, doing her own housework and caring for a dozen hens.

Harley L. Williams, a native of Rutland and for 23 years an employee of W. C. Landon & Co., died Saturday of a complication of diseases. For many years Mr. Williams was head of the shipping department of the Landon plant, but for six months he had been an invalid.

Lieut. Walter M. Tenney of St. Albans is a prisoner of war at Camp Villingen, Germany, according to a letter received from the International Red Cross society in Switzerland. Lieut. Tenney had been in a hospital since April 20 and has just arrived in Villingen.

The knitting contest in Middlebury last week proved very interesting and there was a good attendance. A small admission fee was charged, which netted $5.70 for the local branch. The first prize of $1 in thrift stamps was won by Mrs. Fred A. Smith, who knitted eight and three-quarters inches in the allotted time of two hours. Mrs. E. H. Thomas knitted six and three-quarters inches and Mrs. George B. Reynolds completed six inches. In each case the prizes were donated by the winners to the Red Cross.

The farmerettes working at the Scott farm in Brattleboro have struck and left the place. The matron in charge of the girls requested one of the young women to leave and the rest of the girls announced that if she went all would go. The matron refused to withdraw her command, the manager of the farm declined to mix up in the matter and as a result all departed. As workers they were a success and accomplished much while they were at the farm. There were 10 of them, all from the agricultural department of the University of Vermont except the matron, who was from Boston. Manager Tenney has not been able to secure anyone to help with the work since they left. Six of the girls went to Putney to work on the Alken berry farm.

Bellows Falls, July 29.—The boarding facilities of the village have been seriously impaired. One boarding house was closed during last week and another is to close. The proprietors say there is no money in the boarding business. The last restaurant on School street, operated by George Douglas & Co., may be closed. One proprietor was drafted recently and is at Camp Devens. The other was called Thursday but secured a six days' furlough to enable him to close up his business.

The Vermont Farm Machine company, which employs several hundred men manufacturing munitions, is interested in obtaining better boarding facilities for its employees and has taken steps to insure a continuance of the School street restaurant.

TWO ENORMOUS ORDERS.

To Meet the Needs of American Soldiers in France.

Paris, July 29.—One billion three hundred and fifty million cigarettes and almost a billion cookies are two of the enormous orders for supplies just placed by the Y. M. C. A. for distribution to the American troops in France and which give some idea of the magnitude of the service rendered by the Red Triangle organization. A small realization of the little comforts our fighters crave and the amount they can consume is conveyed in the Y. M. C. A.'s orders for 840,000,000 cookies, representing 700 cartloads, 33,750,000 sticks of gum, 112,500,000 bars of chocolate, 1,350,000,000 cigarettes and 7,500,000 jars of jam and marmalade. These goods have been contracted for and will be exhausted before Christmas.

SEEKS TO BE VERMONT ATTORNEY GENERAL

Elmer Johnson of St. Albans Declares for 100 Per Cent Prosecution of the Law and "Fearless and Impartial Enforcement of the Laws."

St. Albans, July 29.—Elmer Johnson, a well known attorney of this city, this morning announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination to the office of attorney general. Mr. Johnson is one of the leading members of the Franklin county bar and in 1912 represented the county in the Senate. Mr. Johnson's statement, which he declares for a 100 per cent prosecution of the law, for national prohibition and for an impartial and fearless enforcement of the law, is as follows:

To the Republican voters of Vermont: I am a candidate for the office of attorney general. I respectfully solicit your support if you find me worthy of the high honor I seek. As this appeal goes out to many men with whom I have not the pleasure of a personal acquaintance, it is fair that I state my attitude toward two or three questions that now occupy a place in the public mind.

I am in favor of prosecuting the war, at whatever cost, until German militarism is so shattered that Germany will no longer be dangerous. Treaties between nations are without value unless backed by a conscience. The German conscience is a minus quantity, therefore we cannot rely upon her promise to keep the peace. One of the conditions of peace should be the surrender of the kaiser.

I favor the national prohibition amendment. I am and always have been opposed to the open saloon and to the liquor traffic. I believe in a fearless and impartial enforcement of the laws, but this to be done in a conservative manner entirely divorced from all forms of the spy system.

I favor woman suffrage. If I am elected I shall try to make good.

I have always voted the Republican ticket. Dated at the city of St. Albans, this 29th day of July, 1918. Elmer Johnson.

Elmer Johnson was born on a farm in Troy, Feb. 22, 1873, the son of Darius T. and Emma (Chapin) Johnson. He attended the public schools of his native town and took a business training at Eastman's National Business college, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. He read law in the office of Frederick W. Baldwin of Barton, and was admitted to the bar in October, 1906. He began the practice of his profession at Enosburg Falls, where he lived for five years. He removed to St. Albans in 1907, where he has since lived. He was state's attorney for Franklin county from 1908 to 1910 and state senator from Franklin county from 1912 to 1914. While at Enosburg Falls he held the offices of village trustee and school commissioner and he has held different minor offices in St. Albans. He is now president of the board of trustees of the St. Albans public library and president of the St. Albans Co-operative Savings and Loan Association, a banking institution which he was instrumental in establishing. He is secretary and treasurer of the Franklin County Bar association and a member of both the Vermont and American Bar associations. Since his admission to the bar he has been in active practice, principally in the trial of cases.

In 1904 he married Miss Sarah Reynolds of Lowell, Mass.; they have one son, Philip, now 21 years of age and in the naval service.

PROSECUTION MAY FOLLOW.

Fair Haven Store Alleged to Have Sold Poison in Violation of State Law.

Rutland, July 29.—Prosecutions may follow as a result of the poisoning accident in Blissville, a small hamlet between Castleton and Poultney, where Mrs. Frank C. French used a cupful of arsenate of lead in a mess of biscuits, supposing it to be barley flour. The family was very ill and Mr. French and son, George W. French, are still in a serious condition and paralyzed to a great extent. Others made very ill by the biscuits were Mrs. French, Florence French, Roy, children, and Mrs. Florence French, a relative, who was visiting there.

Mr. French bought flour, substitutes therefor and other articles at a grocery store in Fair Haven and then, it is alleged, purchased a bag of arsenate of lead at the Norton hardware store in the same place, and all the purchases were placed together in a box in Mr. French's wagon. It is also alleged that the poison was not labeled in any way and that, without doubt, the whole family would have died. She acted quickly and then sent for a physician, so that it is expected all the family except the two mentioned above, possibly, will recover, although the physician is unwilling to make any statement to that effect, as there is a question as to the ultimate effect of so much poison in their systems.

When the facts of this case came to the attention of State's Attorney C. V. Poulin of this city, an investigation was made and, according to his statement, the bag of arsenate of lead was not labeled in any way, a direct infringement of the state law, which states explicitly that any such poison shall have the word "Poison" printed on a label attached, also the word "Arsenate" with the antidote for that particular poison following. If there is one. Arsenate of lead contains about 33 per cent arsenic. The original package has been sealed and forwarded to the state laboratory of hygiene.
